if you want to go for the package deal that includes the neuro-monitor, neuro-remote, and neuro-controller, it would be a little more money, but it's about $100 cheaper than the neuro programmer 3 package (at the time of writing this review). if you decide that you like the neuro programmer 3, the best way to get more out of it is to buy a neuro-remote (which is about $70), add a neuro-monitor (about $100), and then you have a device that can be used for both audio and visual stimulation if you so choose, or you can do what i did, and buy a neuro-remote, neuro-monitor, and the neuro-controller at the same time, which is about $100 cheaper. when i first heard that they'd made a neuro-remote, i had thought they were just going to do the same thing as the neuro-controller, and they were wrong! the neuro-remote, if you've seen the product video, is a lot more flexible, and although i have very little experience with it myself, i can honestly say that it was a lot better than anything that i've come across. even the neuro-controller is pretty good in its own right, but it's a bit more limited in what it can do. if you buy the neuro programmer 3 package, you'll get a neuro-monitor and a neuro-controller, and if you buy the neuro programmer 3 package with the neuro-monitor and neuro-controller, you'll also get the neuro-remote. i have a feeling that if this product got a lot more popular and widely used that the neuro-remote would be more widely available, but that's not the case at this time. all of the above features are free to download, but the program also has a few cost options, like those mentioned earlier. like the other programs, you can either buy the program, or you can try the free version, but it's also possible to buy the program with some additional features.

but in terms of getting started with the software, the first thing that you'll need to do is download the software from the neuro programmer 3 page. it's a total of $49.00 for the full version, which i find a bit excessive, but then, i'm not a user of this software. however, when you get it, it will have a registration/activation phase which will be required to use it. the following is a list of neurostimulation systems that are known to be incompatible with an implanted cardiac system. the list is not complete, and manufacturers may release additional information regarding the incompatibility of their devices with implanted cardiac systems. if you notice that you have any of these devices in your system, you should be sure to contact your physician prior to using this program. as a rule, using this type of program is not recommended for patients who have cardiac pacemakers, or defibrillators. if you notice that the neuro programmer is giving you any heart rate problems or any other problems (beeps, etc.) when you start the program, it would be best to just disable the program until you can properly test it with your cardiac system. to make the best use of the neuro programmer for cardiac patients, we suggest turning off all neurostimulation programs at the first sign of heart rate problems. we also recommend that you always wear a magnet for the duration of the program to avoid the possibility of having neurostimulation programs affect the performance of your pacemaker or defibrillator. once again, thank you for your time reading through this manual. we hope you find it helpful, and we look forward to hearing from you soon. in the meantime, we'd like to remind you that we are also hosting our 12th year anniversary on september 23rd, which means that we've been providing neuro programmer to users for a full 12 years. how cool is that? 5ec8ef588b
